ATRISA

A modern architectural rendering of a building facade. The building features a mix of materials: white vertical slats, dark grey horizontal bands, and light-colored wood slats. A prominent sign on the left side of the ground floor reads "ATRISA". The ground floor has a dark wood slat wall, and the upper floors have large windows with wood slat screens. The building is illuminated from within, and the ground is paved with grey tiles. There are small green plants in planters along the base of the building.
